CHRIS HECK MAN.

EXPERIENCE

Entertainment | 2012–Current
Senior Web Designer & Developer

The majority of my work was interactive design including; designing, developing and prototyping multiple Apps, designing and building Shopify stores and blogs, Wordpress sites, Bootstrap websites, responsive e-mails, Mailchimp templates and a number of other one-off front-end development projects. Along with the web based work I also created banner ads, social media posts, product launches, logos, brochures, and in-store displays.

Brand Labs | 2012–2013
Developer

As a developer I built custom Volusion based stores, landing pages, e-mail campaigns and blogs using a mix of HTML, CSS, jQuery and Wordpress.
My experience as both a developer and designer lead to an additional lead role as a liaison between departments in order to foster better communication.

Identity | 2007–2012
Senior Web Designer & Developer

I designed and built all manner of websites, both with CMS systems like Wordpress and with static HTML & CSS, e-mail campaigns, and ads. Non-web related print items such logos, brochures, business cards, invitations, etc.

Priority Health | 2007
Designer

As part of Priority Health's marketing department I was involved in numerous print based projects, included patient forms, award dinner invitations, information books and posters.

Big Communications | 2005–2006
Designer

Big's focus was almost entirely on Flash based interactive motion design. Other work included logo designs, production graphics, and various print work.

Freelance | 2002–2018
Designer & Developer

I've done a variety of freelance jobs. Including, but not limited to website design, site development and maintenance, t-shirts, album design/packaging, posters, interactive design, forms, booklets, brochures, DVD packaging and more. I've partnered with design agencies, PR companies, screen printers, teachers, and bands.
